As winter approaches and we settle in to the natural rhythms of the season I cherish the warmth that the season brings. I'm not referring to the warmth of the sun but rather the warmth that people provide. This time of year the world gets a little smaller, our horizons are closer and we are afforded the time to really enjoy the connection between friends and family. Thanksgiving, Hanukkah and Christmas provide the reason to connect. At Bayport Flower Houses the family and friend connections are what make it magical. We most definitely have outstanding holiday adornments and gifts, the likes you won't find elsewhere, but what provides the magic is the people you meet and our wonderful staff. Start the season early and feel the magic at our Holiday Open House on Saturday and Sunday, November 14th and 15th. Enjoy 20% off, great live music by the Sunnyland Jazz Band, design classes, demos, great raffles and refreshments. If you can't make it then you can also enjoy 20% off on Thursday, November 19th as we host our Chamber's Shop for a Cause night. I hope to see you this holiday season...we love the warmth.

Enjoy,

Karl

Greens for the HOLIDAY

Holiday Decorating With Fresh Greenery

Decorating the house with fresh greenery is one of the oldest winter holiday traditions and represent everlasting life and hope for the return of spring. Churches were decorated elaborately with garlands of holly, ivy, mountain laurel and mistletoe hung from the roof, the walls, the pews, pulpit and sometimes the altar. Lavender, rose petals and herbs such as rosemary and bay were scattered for scent. Homes were decorated in a simpler fashion with greenery and boughs in the window frames and holly sprigs stuck to the glass with wax. Today, decorating for the holidays with fresh greenery is more prevalent than ever. Greenery such as cedar, ivy, pine and holly add a fresh look and natural scent to our homes.

Decorating With Greens

Our fresh cut greens can take on any form from traditional wreaths to crosses, to kissing balls, an unusual alternative to the usual mistletoe sprig. Our wreaths are available both unadorned or decorated. Wreaths can also be custom designed to reflect your personal look and style, whether that be a natural look with pines cones and plaid ribbons or the fresh greens highlighted by the shimmer of gold and silver.

Our fresh cut greenery also come in bunches for decorating mantels, or front porch pots. Choices include Frasier Fir, Western Cedar, Incense Cedar, Mixed Bunches, Holly, Magnolia leaves, White Pine, Oregon Juniper, Garlands are available in White Pine, Western Cedar & Noble Fir.

Safety & Care

Dried evergreens can become flammable when in contact with a heat source such as a candle flame. Make sure that any wreaths, roping and garlands that you bring indoors are as fresh as possible. Check needles by bending them. They should be flexible and not break. Avoid greenery that are shedding or that have brown, dry tips.

Before bringing the greenery inside, soak them in water overnight to rehydrate them.

Never place fresh greenery near heat sources, such as space heaters, heater vents or sunny windows. Be careful of wreaths used on the front door, if there is a glass outer door that receives direct sunlight. Keep greenery away from candles and fireplaces. If you use lights near your green arrangements, make sure that they stay cool, and if outside, that they are rated for exterior use.

Check your decorations every couple of days for freshness. If greenery are becoming dry, either replace or remove the dry portions. Make sure to discard dry greenery away from the house or garage to prevent a further fire hazard. Some popular plants used in holiday decorating can present poisoning hazards for small children or pets. Poisonous berries are found on holly plants, yews, mistletoe, ivy plants, Jerusalem cherry, bittersweet and crown of thorns. The pearly white berries of mistletoe are particularly toxic. Keep all these plants with berries out of the reach of children and curious pets.

Keeping Greenery Fresh

- Use clean, sharp cutters to cut branches and immediately put cut ends into water until ready to use. Crush the ends of woody stems to allow the cutting to take in more water. Immerse greenery in water overnight before arranging. This allows the cuttings to absorb the maximum amount of moisture.
- Allow the foliage to dry and then spray it with Wilt-pruf, to help seal in moisture. Note: Do not use on juniper berries, cedar or blue spruce. The product can damage the wax coating that gives these plants their distinctive color.
- Keep completed wreaths, garlands and arrangements in a cool location until use. Display fresh greenery and fruits out of the sun and away from heat. Plan to replace greenery and fruits throughout the holiday season if they become less than fresh.

We've Got The BEST Fresh Cut

Christmas Trees

If you have not tried one yet...make this year's tree a Fraser Fir. Fraser Firs are renowned for their ability to stay fresh in the home for a long time. You can set up a Fraser Fir in Early December and it will last perfectly (providing you give a drink when it needs it). Come on down for our Tree lighting weekend on November 28th and 29th and take advantage of our specials...
